CORRUPT MEN BIGGER MENACE THAN ARE REDS

Davis, Answering Daugherty's Letter, Says "Impotent Public Officials" Real Enemies to Constitution

STATEMENTS DIRECT

Nominee Declares He Has Not Veiled Phrases—Says Means Notorious Character When Hired as Justice Agent

New York, Sept. 23. — The real enemies of the constitution are not the Reds and Bolsheviks, but "corrupt and impotent public officials and their associates," John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, declared in a letter written today to Harry M. Daugherty in reply to the one sent to him recently by the former attorney general.

Expressing the belief that the real work of his campaign to be the arousing of the moral sense of the American people to "condemn and not to condone the betrayal of official trust," Mr. Davis wrote to Mr. Daugherty that "this issue can not be obscured by your forced effort to represent the real contest of this campaign as one between the defenders of the constitution and those who seek to overthrow it under leaders "fresh from a baptism of bolshevism in lurid and suffering Russia."

"If the constitution is to endure," Mr. Davis added, "the first requisite is that men who hold office under it shall be honest and faithful to their trusts."

Refusal to Testify Pains Davis.

Denying Mr. Daugherty's statement that his allusions to the former attorney general during the campaign had been "quite veiled," Mr. Davis said they had been "both direct and specific."

He added that he found "no warrant whatever" for withdrawing any single one of them, and then proceeded to elaborate upon them, in blunt fashion.

Brushing aside Mr. Daugherty's statement that his "self respect" debarred him from appearing before the senate investigating committee because of the malice exhibited towards him by it, Mr. Davis said that it seemed to him that under the circumstances "the malice of the committee and the falsity of the evidence would rather increase than diminish the natural desire of any man, much less an attorney general of the United States, to meet his accusers on their own ground."

"I confess that your failure to do so," Mr. Davis wrote, "as well as the refusal of your brother (Mal S. Daugherty) to furnish information demanded of him in return, produced on me, and I think the whole country, an exceedingly painful impression."

Means Already Notorious.

With respect to the testimony of Gaston B. Means before the committee and his subsequent repudiation of it and his still later repudiation of the repudiation, the Democratic nominee said it was Mr. Daugherty who appointed Means to a confidential position in the department of justice.

"You brought him into the circle of your official intimates," Mr. Davis said. "You created him a government agent. You gave him his credentials. At the time you did so his character was already notorious * * *. I can imagine no mal-administration in any government department more vicious than the employment of such a character."

Referring to the indictment of United States Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana, "prosecutor" for the senate committee, Mr. Davis said the "significant thing" was that no effort to find such an indictment had been made until Senator Wheeler had assumed a leading part in the criticism of the administration and of [illegible]

G. O. P. SENATORS WARN AGAINST OVERCONFIDENCE

Washington, Sept. 23.—Warnings against overconfidence were voiced today by two Republican leaders after leaving the White House, where they made encouraging reports of the trend of the campaign in the east, both dwelling in New England.

Senator Pepper, Pennsylvania, and Senator Dale, Vermont, brought these reports and declared that while the situation generally looked most promising it would be dangerous for party leaders to express too much confidence lest some of the party supporters fail to vote.

President Coolidge let it be known today he was satisfied with the trend of the campaign and that he had not made any plans for speaking tours, except at exercises in Washington, dedicating the First division monument here October 4, and at the meeting of the American Red Cross [illegible] two days later.

MRS. HARRIS WANTS $12,500.

New York, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Eleanor Barrett today launched her fight to compel her one-time husband, Bernard D. Harris, former vice president of the National City bank to give her $12,500 which is to reopen the court proceedings which resulted in the annulment of their marriage. Supreme Court Justice Donohue denied her application on the grounds that a review of the previous proceedings did not convince him that Mrs. [illegible] could be successful in an appeal.

CHRISTIAN VISITED OFFICE AT NIGHT

Made Entries in Books 20 Days After His Supposed Departure on Vacation

New York, Sept. 23.—The handwriting of George B. Christian, missing treasurer of the Day and Heaton stock exchange house, which went bankrupt last week with losses approaching $1,000,000, was discovered by detectives today in the books of the firm under the date of last September 4.

That was 20 days after Christian left New York, ostensibly for Canada, it was four days before his fellow partners received the letter in which Christian is alleged to have admitted defalcation that had wrecked the business.

Authorities declared that the discovery of entries in Christian's handwriting on September 4 indicated that he had never left New York; that while his partners thought him in the wilds of Canada on vacation, he had secretly visited his offices at night to juggle the accounts.

Contributing to this theory of the detectives was information obtained today that the missing broker's wife and his mother-in-law, who were believed to have departed with him, were in Brooklyn and an intimate friend of the family informed authorities he knew where they were hiding and could lead officers to them.

Added to these developments, growing out of the failure of one of New York's oldest and reputedly most solid financial houses, was the statement of police that another friend of Christian reported having received a letter soon after his disappearance, admitting he had lost the Day and Heaton resources through speculation.

TRUSTEES SEEK TO AVOID PROBE

Monticello's Financial Affairs for Past Five Years Had Been Ordered Investigated

Albany, Sept. 23.—The appellate division, third department, today heard the appeal of the trustees of the village of Monticello from an order of Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Nichols, directing a summary investigation into financial affairs of the village for the past five years. [illegible] Monaghan of Cobleskill had been appointed to make the investigation, but a stay was granted pending determination of the appeal.

In the appeal for an investigation, 30 tax payers charged the trustees had acted illegally in ordering expenditures of funds without a vote of the tax payers; that taxes had been collected in excess of the legal percentage of assessed valuation and that an official of the town illegally was appointed public works superintendent with salary increased by deducting money from the water fund. While the appeal was pending, it was said, the appropriations were approved at a special election.

The representatives of the trustees testified an investigation was unnecessary, since the financial affairs of the village had been honestly administered, and charged that the investigation had been instigated for personal spite, because a property owner had been prosecuted for alleged violation of a village ordinance.

McADOO WILL BACK DAVIS IN EVERY POSSIBLE WAY

New York, Sept. 23. — William G. McAdoo, whose fight at Madison Square Garden in the Democratic presidential convention, wrote a new chapter in the records of deadlocks in national political conventions, gave his personal assurance today to John W. Davis that he will do whatever he can for the success of the Democratic national ticket.

This announcement was made by Mr. Davis after he had conferred with the former secretary of the treasury over the luncheon table for nearly two hours. Mr. McAdoo had nothing to say other than the cryptic statement, that Mr. Davis would make whatever announcements there [illegible]

"Our interview was highly satisfactory," Mr. Davis told newspaper correspondents after the conference. "Mr. McAdoo is ready to do whatever he can to contribute to the success of the campaign."

MUST SHOW CAUSE WHY DOORS SHOULD NOT CLOSE

New York, Sept. 23. — F. H. McNulty and company, Broad street stock brokers, today were instructed to appear in supreme court next Tuesday and show cause why the firm should not be enjoined from doing further business.

The order was obtained from Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel by Assistant State Attorney General Chambers, who alleged that the firm was insolvent. He further charged that, while insolvent, the McNulty concern had accepted money, stock, and other securities from customers without disclosing its condition. Mr. Chambers also alleged that several customers had been unable to have their securities returned by the firm.

CARDINALS MAKE HISTORY

Washington, Sept. 23. — For the first time in the history of the Catholic church of America four cardinals met together today at a meeting of trustees of the Catholic university here. They are Cardinals O'Connell of Boston, Mundelein of Chicago, [illegible] New York and Dougherty of Philadelphia.

ENTIRE PARTY TICKET TO RUN AGAIN—SMITH

Does Not Say So, But Leaves No Doubt That He Will Head Democratic List

ANTI-KLAN PLANK ASSURED

Modification of Dry Law to Be Urged—Legislative Program of Past Term to Be Kept

Syracuse, Sept. 23.—Renomination of the entire Democratic state ticket at the convention which opens here on Thursday generally, was accepted tonight as being assured, and the scores of party chieftians, including Governor Alfred E. Smith, who had arrived in the afternoon, busied themselves with the discussion of the platform upon which the party is to stand during the coming election.

An anti-Ku Klux Klan pronouncement, and a plank seeking modification of the prohibition laws are definitely to be included in the party's program, leaders who arrived with Governor Smith admitted. Although Senator James W. Walker, majority leader of the upper house of the legislature who has been framing the platform, did not arrive today with the others, several of those here announced they had definite knowledge of this feature of the program.

Smith Certain to Run Again.

Other features of the platform will coincide closely with the legislative program followed by the Democrats during Governor Smith's two terms in office. Consolidation of state departments to minimize expenses, improvement and extension of the state hospital system, and betterment of the state park program, elimination of grade crossings, and better administration of the state armories will also be named and discussed in detail.

The curtain which had been drawn over the attitude of Governor Smith toward acceptance of the gubernatorial nomination for the third time was whipped aside today, and revealed the governor ready, and his friends said willing, to lead the state Democratic forces again. Before boarding the train at Albany and again upon his arrival here, he predicted simply that "the entire state ticket will be renominated."

It was not the formal statement of acceptance to which the governor's friends and newspapermen had looked, but in the minds of the questioners he left no doubt but that he was definitely intended to [illegible] ticket."

SUIT AGAINST DRY LEAGUE STARTED

Cortright of Corning, Defeated for Assembly Last Year, Charges Libel

Corning, Sept. 23.—The libel actions brought by Francis E. Cortright of Corning, against the Anti-Saloon league and William H. Anderson, former State Superintendent of the league, asking $100,000 for damages as the result of alleged slanderous statements during a three-cornered assembly campaign in Steuben county in 1922, have been settled by the league, it was announced today by James O. Sebring of Corning, attorney for Mr. Cortright.

The attorney for the plaintiff refused to reveal the amount of settlement.

Mr. Cortright brought actions against the league and Mr. Anderson, alleging that during the political fight, the league and Mr. Anderson caused to be printed and circulated certain statements concerning the positon of Mr. Cortright on the wet and dry question that were libelous and slanderous, causing his defeat at the polls.

RATIO OF NAVAL CRAFT SENT TO GENERAL BOARD

Washington, Sept. 23. — The problem of what should be the ratio of development of submarines, surface ships, and aircraft in the navy during the next few years was handed by Secretary Wilbur tonight to the navy general board with instructions that it make a comprehensive study and report to him at its earliest convenience.

The secretary's action was in keeping with a statement made earlier in the day at the White House that President Coolidge was inclined to think that in its initial stages the aircraft inquiry should be considered solely from the naval standpoint.

The general board will be authorized, however, to seek information from and the co-operation of officers in both the navy and army who have had experience with aircraft units.

CHURCH ALL THAT REMAINS OF VILLAGE AFTER FIRE

Montreal, Sept. 23.—A village church standing among ruins was all that remained today of St. Urbain which was swept by flames between midnight and dawn.

The homes of the 50 inhabitants had been destroyed, as well as the village hostelry, the carriage factory, two general stores, and other business places with an aggregate loss of $150,000.

St. Urbain is neighbor to the village of St. Cesaire which was damaged by fire yesterday.

Held as Slayer

Rev. Lawrence M. Hight of ina, Ill., has confessed to the murders of his wife and Ilford Sweetin, a member of his congregation, according to authorities at Mt. Vernon, Ill. The aged triangle of illicit love is blamed by officials. But the minister contends he poisoned both when they were ill "to end their sufferings."

PASTOR AND WOMAN NOW SEPARATED

Taken to Different Southern Illinois Jails After Mrs. Sweetin Confesses to Poisoning of Her Husband

TALK TO EACH OTHER

This Thought by Officials to Have Been Main Help to Securing Admission — She Held Out All Night

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Sept. 23. — With confessions of their poison plot romance in the hands of State Attorney Thompson, Rev. Lawrence M. Hight and Mrs. Elsie Sweetin were taken [illegible] jails in other southern Illinois cities. Their location was kept secret.

The two were together almost three hours this morning and this meeting furnished the missing link in the double murder, namely Mrs. Sweetin's part in the confessed poison plot. Their meeting was filled with affection, as was their separation tonight.

Looking down into her eyes, the clergyman approached the woman for whom he had confessed his love, grasped her hand and, pressing back the tears from his eyes, murmured in a depressed tone:

"Goodbye, my dear. I hope, somehow, we meet again."

No response came from the woman who still showed outward effects of an all-night vigil during which she was pressed for her confession.

Up to the time Mrs. Sweetin, at daybreak today, leaned forward and bent over the typewriter used by the state attorney to sob out her confession, she had been considered the strongest willed woman ever brought to the jail. It was the meeting with the clergyman, his caresses, as seen from without, that moved the woman to admit that she had been implicated in the plot, and that she had given her husband poison.

Woman Details Story.

"You loved me before, are you going back on me?" was one of the first questions with which the clergyman softened her heart after the two had exchanged short words of greeting, the first since his arrest last week.

This appeal, the state attorney said, did more, in his opinion, to move the woman to confess than did the many hours of questioning. Then, after being left alone and later being closeted with the clergyman she weakened and told in detail how she had administered [illegible] three occasions until he finally succumbed.

During the time Mrs. Sweetin was telling the state attorney what part she had played in the alleged poison plot, the clergyman sat in a nearby room, his head on his knees and sobbed loudly.

"What has God intended in letting this come upon me? I love her. I can't help it, although I struggled hard. But what have I done I love her in trying to save her. I love her and my children to whose training my whole life had been devoted until she came. Now they are 'one.'"

MEANS NOT TO TALK ANY MORE REGARDING ACTIONS

Concord, N. C., Sept. 22.—Gaston B. Means, star witness of the senate investigation of the department of justice, tonight issued a statement declaring he would have nothing further to say regarding his testimony or repudiation of it bearing his name made public Sunday night by Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, until he ascertained whether the committee would be called in special session in the near future.

Means asserted that there were many angles to his work which could not be discussed at "this time." He declared, however, if no meeting of the committee was called, he would be glad to furnish any of the members such information and facts as were in his possession.

ROOSEVELT MAY ALREADY HAVE ENOUGH VOTES

Delegates Who Oppose Him in G. O. P. Gubernatorial Race Bring Up Teapot Dome Issue

WANTS NEW DRY STATUTE

Friends Say His Declaration for Law Similar to Mullan-Gage Act Would Get Aid

Rochester, Sept. 23. — Delegates to the New York Republican state convention who are not in favor of the gubernatorial candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt spent the greater part of today in an attempt to alienate support from the assistant secretary of the navy.

The opposition was led, in great part, by the managers of the pre-convention campaigns of the rival candidates, Colonel William Hayward, District Attorney Guy B. Moore of Erie county, and Justice Arthur S. Tompkins of Nyack. The Roosevelt opponents argued that the political record of the Oyster Bay aspirant on the wet and dry question was not satisfactory to the organized temperance interests and that Tapot Dome would be raised as a campaign cry if he should be nominated.

Favors Enforcement of Dry Law.

There was little evidence on the surface that opposition made much headway and Colonel Roosevelt tonight was believed to have a substantial lead over all opponents if he did not already have a majority of the delegates behind him.

The Roosevelt supporters declared that Teapot Dome could not figure in the campaign to Roosevelt's detriment. Replying to the objections of the drys, they argued that as the party candidate would run upon a platform for strict enforcement of prohibition laws and recommending reenactment of a state enforcement statute similar to the Mullan-Gage law, repealed by the 1923 legislature, the dry voters would mark their ballots for Roosevelt rather than for Governor Smith, who was never lined up with the drys.

Although Roosevelt was generally conceded to have the lead over the other three candidates, it seemed certain that the names of all the gubernatorial aspirants would be presented to the convention. The managers of the various booms declared that no withdrawals were contemplated.

DR. SAWYER DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

Physician of Late President Harding—Death Due to Cerebral Hemorrhage

Marion, O., Sept. 23. — Brigadier-General Charles Elmer Sawyer, former personal physician to the late President Warren G. Harding, died suddenly at White Oak farm, his home, here today.

Dr. Sawyer died of cerebral hemorrage, while asleep in his office where he was waiting for his son, Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, to bring him some medicine. He had returned to his home early in the afternoon, complaining of not feeling well.

Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, wife of the late President, who has been making her home at White Oak farm since his death, was with Dr. Sawyer when the end came.

Slightly more than a year from the time Dr. Sawyer stood by the bedside of President Harding in the Palace hotel in San Francisco and watched the end come, the President's wife performed the same service to the physician.

Funeral arrangements had not been made tonight, friends of the family announced.

DRUMMER COMMITS SUICIDE; DAYS OF JAZZ HAVE GONE

(By the Associated Press)

Berlin, Sept. 23. — "The days of jazz music are gone, and as there is nothing else for me to do I have decided to hang myself," were the farewell words of Kurt Kranzler, bass drummer in a local jazz band.

Kranzler was discharged because he persisted in dominating the band's performance by too lusty application of his drumsticks and cymbals. When told that modern dance music no longer demanded excessive noise, Kranzler was seized with a fit of melancholy and disappeared. He was found yesterday hanging by a strap taken from his bass drum from a tree in the Grunewald.

DAVID FOREST WILBER PRESIDENTIAL ELECTOR

Rochester, Sept. 23. — Irving Root and Elizabeth Mill Reid were named presidential electors at large by the Republican state committee in session tonight on the eve of the Republican state convention.

District presidential electors named included, George N. Otis, Miller, and Arthur W. Elder of Albany, and David Forest Wilber, Oneonta.

The following committee was named to fill vacancies arising in the ranks of the electors:

WORLD FLYERS NOW AT SANTA MONICA

"Where's Douglas; He Sure Has Built Some Planes," Shouts Nelson on Landing

(By the Associated Press)

Cloverfield, Santa Monica, Cal., Sept. 23.—The first airplanes to encircle the earth flew home today when Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, flight commander, led three world cruisers back to Santa Monica, where they were built.

The "greatest reception of any place in the world" greeted the flyers, Lieutenant Smith said as he got out of his flagplane, Chicago, to kiss his mother. There were more than 100,000 on the field to roar a welcome to the flyers.

The home coming was but a momentary stop, for Thursday morning they will resume the flight toward Seattle, the next leg being to Crissy field, San Francisco.

"Where's Donald Douglas; he sure has built some planes," said Lieutenant Eric Nelson, engineering officer of the world flight, as he jumped from the New Orleans and quickly found the airplane maker on the field.

Jump to San Francisco Thursday.

Fond mothers' greetings were bestowed upon two of the flyers, Lieutenant Smith and Lieutenant John Harding by Mrs. Jasper Smith of Los Angeles and Mrs. Roberta Chase Harding of Beverly Hills.

The world cruisers, mechanically perfect, hummed their way from San Diego against headwinds, following the coastline most of the time. They flew over Los Angeles then turned down to the field by the seashore, landing in one hour and 40 minutes after they hopped off from Rockwell field, San Diego.

The flight will be resumed Thursday forenoon, the time of departure depending upon reports of weather conditions. The hop to San Francisco Thursday will consume about four and one-half hours.

CHILD PICKED UP FROM TRAIN'S PATH

Motorist Speeds Car, Stands Outside, Steers With One Hand, and Grabs Girl

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 23.—Raymond Steinmetz a quick-witted motorist, yesterday saved the life of a five-year-old girl by snatching her from in front of a moving train at a crossing while driving his motor car from the running board with one hand, at 30 miles an hour.

The child, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Gearhart, had wandered onto the tracks directly in front of the train. Seeing the child's plight and throwing his legs over the side of the car, Steinmetz stood on the running board, opened the gas throttle and while holding the wheel with one hand, grabbed the child with the other. He jerked her to safety just as the train whizzed by.

So close was the rescue that Steinmetz's car bears a small dent on the rear fender where it was grazed by the locomotive.

NEW DENVER & RIO GRANDE WESTERN PRESIDENT SOUGHT

New York, Sept. 23.—Selection of a president for the reorganized Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad company is under consideration by the controlling interests of the Missouri Pacific and Western Pacific railroads which will assume joint control of the system following the discharge of the receiver within the next month or two.

Bankers identified with the reorganization indicated today that an operating expert would be chosen as president of the Denver road with the possibility that some one familiar with its financial problems would head the board of directors. All details of the organization will be completed before the end of the year, it was predicted, and the new system of operation put into effect.

COMPANY WOULD ISSUE BONDS.

Albany, Sept. 23 — I [illegible] on the application of the Delaware Telephone company, in [illegible] of Walton for authority to issue securities and assume obligations and pay outstanding bonds of the Walton People's Telephone company and the Downsville Telephone company was held today before the public service commission. It was testified that by combining the two companies, which have virtually the same ownership and have for some time been operated under the same management, it was expected to reduce operating costs, and to improve and extend the lines and service.

FIRE EQUIPMENT BURNED.

Bay Shore, Sept. 23.—Almost the entire equipment of the local fire department was destroyed early today by a fire which caused damage of approximately $150,000 before it was checked by volunteers from Babylon, Lindenhurst, Amityville, Islip, and East Islip.

Four of the six pieces of apparatus are destroyed and the other two were badly damaged.

CHANG-SOVIET AGREEMENT

(By the Associated Press)

Tokio, Sept. 24.—Late dispatches from Mukden confirmed previous reports that Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian leader, has made an agreement with the Soviet government which covers the future of the Chinese Eastern railway and includes the recognition of the Moscow government.

GERM'NY WOULD ENTER LEAGUE; DEMANDS SEAT

Also Insists Upon No Military Investigation That Could Wound National Dignity of Nation

SOLUTION NOT HARD

Geneva Delegates Anticipate No Difficulty in Keeping Berlin From Being Affronted by Actions

(By the Associated Press.)

Geneva, Sept. 23.—Germany held the center of the stage in Geneva tonight, and held it dramatically. The members of the council of the League of Nations and scores of other distinguished [illegible] groups in the corridors of the league palace and discussed the big news from Berlin that the German cabinet had unanimously voted to apply for membership.

The strings, which, according to press dispatches, Germany would attach to her application, did not seem to worry overmuch the members of the council with whom the correspondent of the Associated Press talked. The prevailing view was that the explanatory note issued by Berlin was chiefly intended for home consumption and as a sop to the Nationalists, who are said to be fearful that Germany will be made to suffer new humiliations.

There seems to be no desire whatsoever here to humiliate Germany, but, on the contrary, practically everybody tonight was voicing deep satisfaction over Berlin's decision, coupled with hearty words of welcome.

The news reached the league secretariat at rather a sensational moment, for the council in secret session was discussing how best to conduct the league's investigation of the armaments situation in Germany, which is one of the rights vested in the council by the treaty of Versailles.

Germany Insists on Permanent Seat.

The permanent session of military matters in drawing up plans for the council to follow when it undertakes the inquiries in Germany had suggested that all the signatories to the treaty of Versailles furnish names for [illegible] would be chosen. This would mean that countries like Poland and Rumania might be called to send their nationals into Germany in connection with the inquiry as to whether Germany was fulfilling her armament agreement. The council realizes that such a contingency would be humiliating to Germany, and has reserved decision on this point.

The delegates have interpreted the news from Berlin as meaning that Germany will insist on a permanent seat on the council of the League of Nations, with perhaps some insistence also that any military investigation would not be connected in such a way as to wound national dignity. It is understood that the Berlin foreign office will continue the diplomatic negotiations already begun in the capitals of the great powers so as to be certain that the reasonable conditions attached to the application for membership will be met. Statesmen are agreed tonight that this is the wisest course to pursue, though it is believed that Germany's official application will come so late as to prevent action by the assembly at the present session.

VALUABLE JEWELS STOLEN FROM HOTEL APARTMENT

New York, Sept. 23.—Jewelry valued at from $20,000 to $30,000 was stolen from the Hotel Plaza apartment of Mrs. Dorothy Harvey Glendenning of Kansas City, Mo., last Saturday night, the police announced today.

According to the police, the loss of the jewelry was discovered when Mrs. Glendenning and her husband returned to her suite to dress for a [illegible] the police and private detective agencies have been making an extended search, no clues have as yet been found. It is said that Mrs. Glendenning is the daughter of an owner of a large chain of restaurants in the west. Neither she nor her husband could be found here.

YEAR SENTENCE FOR J. RIDER.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Sept. 23.—One year in jail and a fine of one dollar was the sentence imposed today by Judge H. B. Waugh upon Miss Lucille Peirce, a stenographer, who shot and killed Harold Smith, her lover and a Clarksburg traveling man, as he stood conversing with a Buckhannon girl, a year ago. Miss Peirce, convicted of involuntary manslaughter, must serve 122 days in jail the court having deduced the 272 days she was held awaiting trial she was tried three times, the first two trials resulting in disagreements.

EXPLOSION KILLS THREE.

Lockhaven, Pa., Sept. 23.—The explosion of the digester at the local plant of the New York and Pennsylvania Pulp and Paper company last night caused the death of three employes. The body of Ralph Fryer was found in the wreckage today. The others, who died last night, were Harry Fowler and Lee E. Hurst.

The entire pulp department was destroyed. Company officials estimated the loss at $100,000.

AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

What are the chief causes of topping?

Answered by
LAURIE AYTON

Always a consistent place winner in the big tournaments — National open, Western open, and sectional tournaments. Famed for his accuracy and steadiness under fire.

• • •

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CRIPPLED GIANTS BEAT PIRATES

(By the Associated Press)

New York, Sept. 23 — Playing like champions in spite of a crippled line-up, the New York Giants decisively vanquished Pittsburgh today, 5 to 1, in the first game of their all-important three-game series. A crowd of 30,000 aroused to a world series pitch of enthusiasm saw the McGraw men strengthen their hold on the top.

The triumph put the Giants two and a half games ahead of Pittsburgh, which now can not go into the lead even if victorious in the remaining games of this series tomorrow and Thursday. As Brooklyn was defeated by Chicago, McGraw increased his margin over the second place Robins to a full game.

Behind the brilliant twirling of Hugh McQuillan the Giants played with the sort of dash and snap that has carried them to three pennants in a row and has brightened their prospects of making it four straight. They fought the Pirates with their two brightest infield stars, Groh and Frisch, on the sidelines through injuries.

It was a rookie, in fact, who turned the tide in McGraw's favor. Jimmie O'Connell, former Pacific Coast star, smashed out a home run into the upper tier of the right field stands in the fourth inning, scoring Lindstrum, rookie third sacker, who had singled, ahead of him. The Giants added three more in the seventh when Hank Gowdy singled with the bases full, but that brace of runs proved the winning margin.

VANCE ALLOWS FOUR HITS

Three, However, Were Homers, Giving Chicago Victory in 10th Over Runners-Up.

Brooklyn, Sept. 23. — Dazzy Vance fanned 11 men and held Chicago to four hits today, but three of them were home runs and these spelled defeat for Brooklyn by a score of 5 to 4, in 10 innings.

Grantham got two of the circuit swats, both over the right field wall after two men were out. The first came in the opening inning with no one on the bases. In the second inning Grantham came up after Vance had walked Adams and Heathcote and repeated his long drive. With the score tied, Hartnett opened the 10th with a liner that bounded into the left field bleachers, scoring the winning run.

Day Pitches Good Ball Against Phillies, but Retires in Eighth When Count Was Tied.

Philadelphia, Sept. 23. — St. Louis went 10 innings today to defeat Philadelphia by a score of 8 to 7. Day, the rookie hurler, pitched seven innings of good ball but was retired in the eighth when the locals tied the score. A double by Wilson, with the bases filled in the ninth, again tied the count after the visitors had scored three runs in their half of the inning. Blades' double and a single by Cooney in the 10th gave the Cardinals the game.

COBLESKILL FAIR

Opens Auspiciously With Excellent Roof Garden Attractions and Good Races

Fair Sized Crowd Considering the Chilly Weather—Little Bondsman, Argot Direct and Alice Bingen Winners of Racing Events—Big Crowd Expected on Wednesday with Several Oneonta Horses Entered.

Cobleskill, Sept. 23.—Chilly weather marked the opening of the big fair here today, and while the sky cleared by mid-afternoon, it was too late to bring out the crowd, which, however, was good, considering the weather. The track dried in time for the three racing events of the afternoon and good races resulted. The display in all departments is large and the roof garden attractions are pronounced excellent by all. Lampman's band is furnishing music for the entire fair and is giving the best of satisfaction.

Tomorrow an exceptionally large crowd is anticipated as the weather pormises to be fine and many were kept away today by the clouds of the morning. Several Oneonta horses are included in the entries for the races tomorrow as follows: 2:17 trot, H. M. Stanford's Crex, and George Cliff, by Camp and Esmay; 2:12 pace, Mabel Seymour and Prigg' Lady by H. M. Stanford, Bellinardine by S. G. Camp; 2:21 trot, Brelalde, by Frank Bouton, The Michigan Farmer, by H. M. Stanford. In the latter event, The H. & B., by W. H. Wheeler of Stamford is entered.

"Gamest Guy"

Sergeant William Kennedy of New Orleans—his buddies call him the "gamest guy in the world"—is dying by inches. Altogether he's been treated in 27 hospitals in France and the United States. He's undergone 14 amputations and one surgical operation. "Trench feet," the doctors say. Yet Kennedy only grins. "They gotta give me chloroform before they nail my coffin-lid down," he says.

Two Hittin' Fools

By Feg Murray

During most of last month the two runners-up to Hornsby and Ruth in the National league batting race were "Kiki" Cuyler of the Pirates and "Bib" Falk of the White Sox. Both these heavy hitters are right up at the top, and the strange part of it is that both of them started out to be pitchers. Both play left field, too, but heavy-hitting left fielders are the order of the day—see the Meusel brothers, Jamieson, Goslin, Wheat and Brewster.

Kiki Cuyler is only twenty-five, and this is his first year in the big leagues, yet he is already one of the most valuable players on the Pittsburgh club, and is largely responsible for the Pirates' upward spurt. He has a wonderful throwing arm and is one of the best base stealers in the league. He played with Nashville last year.

The White Sox management tried to make Bib Falk pitch at the beginning of this season, which Bib refused to do. He was a fair southpaw twirler, but much preferred to play the outfield regularly where his hitting powers would be much more of a help to his club. Finally he got his chance and made good with a bang. When he slumped the White Sox slumped — when his batting eye came back the team did much better. Bib pitched for three years with the University of Texas. This is his fourth year with Comiskey's team. He got his chance in 1921, after the "Black Sox" scandal had disposed of Joe Jackson and Felsch.

"OBEY NEW LAW AND SAVE LIVES"
GOVERNOR'S APPEAL TO MOTORISTS

STATE OF NEW YORK
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER
ALBANY, N. Y.

ALFRED E. SMITH
GOVERNOR

TO THE LICENSED MOTOR VEHICLE DRIVERS:

Under the authority of the new law, by which you have been licensed to operate a motor vehicle, New York State is going to make a new effort to SAVE HUMAN LIVES. You undoubtedly are familiar with most of the important provisions of the law.

What I would like to ask of you today, as the Governor of the State, is your hearty cooperation in the enforcement of this law. If the public will give full cooperation, the officials of the Motor Vehicle Bureau can enforce it.

When it is enforced I am firmly convinced that the toll of human lives taken in automobile accidents will be reduced, or at least it will not be constantly mounting higher and higher, as it has been day in and day out, year after year, ever since motor vehicles began to play so important a part in our lives and work.

The State of New York is going to do its share in this task of SAVING HUMAN LIVES. Every citizen must help, but automobile drivers can help — more than any other class — by OBEYING THE LAW and assisting in every possible way the officials charged with its enforcement.

Sincerely yours,

Alfred E. Smith

Copies of this appeal are being distributed to all operators licensed under the new motor vehicle law of the state. It is estimated more than 1,250,000 operators, outside of the metropolitan district of New York city, will have to be licensed by October 1. After that date persons who operate motor vehicles without licenses will be subject to arrest.

ST. MATTHEW'S ANNIVERSARY

Unadilla Church Celebrates One Hundred Fifteenth Anniversary with Presentation of Pageant.

Unadilla, Sept. 23.—The pageant "Advance the Line," as presented by St. Matthew's church school and choir, Sunday, very forcibly showed the need of faithfulness in the discharge of all life's duties. The processional consisted of the children carrying flags of many nations, the crucifer, standard bearers, choir and rector.

The prologue was read very distinctly by Carolyn Kinney, Paul Emerson, as herald, announced the arrival of a messenger, Kenneth Griffin, who brought welcome messages, and questioned the condition of the church. Arnold Southworth, a soldier of Christ, representing the soul of the church, showed that responsibilities neglected were sinful, became penitent, sought and found pardon, and received the helmet of salvation. Louise Moore, Dorothy Vroman, and Alice Southworth, as Faith, Hope and Charity exemplified the opportunities and results of the faithful performance of these virtues.

All through the presentation appropriate hymns were sung by the vested choir; "Just As I Am" was particularly appropriate as the soldier knelt at the altar pleading pardon. Those who had the privilege of this service were awakened to a realization of work to be performed. It was a most beneficial church service.

Woman's Club Year Begins.

The first meeting of the Woman's club year will be at the Community house Wednesday, October 1, President's day. A reception will be held from 6:30 to 7 p. m. This will be followed by a course dinner in charge of Mrs. F. S. Davy. After the dinner an entertainment under the direction of Miss Anne Mulford will be enjoyed.

O. E. S. Past Matrons Work Degree.

Freedom chapter, O. E. S., spent another very happy evening, Monday, Sept. 22. After the opening exercises the floral ceremony was given by the past matrons of the chapter, with Mrs. T. R. Raitt, matron, and Mrs. Hattie Hildreth, associate matron. All the offices except secretary, pianist, and color bearer were filled by past matrons. Three of their member, Mesdames May Mulford, Helen Quinby and Della Christian, residing elsewhere, were unable to be present.

The chapter room was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and hydrangeas. Music added to the pleasure. Miss Ada Butler sang, "My Castle of Dreams," and as an encore, "Willie's Prayer." She also gave the reading, "When Sary joined the Eastern Star Degree."

The present officers served refreshments, and a social hour of visiting and dancing completed an evening of great enjoyment.

Sunday School Business Meeting.

Charles A. Castle, superintendent will entertain the officers and teachers of the Baptist church school at his home on Fellows street this evening. The evening will be partly of a business nature, but principally a social one. Probably refreshments will be enjoyed too.

Rod and Gun Club Banquet.

The Rod and Gun club will hold a pleasant meeting in the dining parlors of the Presbyterian church Friday evening, Sept. 26, at 6:30. The first thing on the program will be a banquet served by the ladies of the church, the price being one dollar. An orchestra will furnish music, and Jerry Wilson of Oneonta will lead in the chorus singing.

Congressman John D. Clarke, and Dr. Dana, superintendent of Oneonta schools will be the speakers of the evening. This club is a real community club, with wide interests in all which benefits the community. The membership is large, and there is room for more.

They Believe in Preparedness.

The athletic team are putting in some pretty thorough practice for the football game with Dannsville, Saturday, Sept. 27.

MARRIAGE AT SCHENEVUS.

Miss Edna Bailey United with Clyde Woodbeck of Decatur.

Schenevus, Sept. 23.—Saturday evening, September 20, at the home of the bride's parents on Elk street occurred the marriage of Miss Edna Bailey to Clyde Woodbeck, a farmer of Decatur. Rev. L. A. Duren of the Methodist Episcopal church performed the ceremony. The couple were unattended, the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bailey acting as witnesses. Their future residence is to be at Richmondville. Congratulations are extended.

In Honor of Mrs. Goodell.

Mrs. Webster Chase entertained at her home on upper Main street Monday evening in honor of Mrs. DeForest Goodell of Worcester, who is leaving on Friday with her children for St. Petersburg, Florida. Several friends from Worcester accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Goodell and guests from Oneonta were also present. Four tables of bridge were formed and dainty refreshments served. Since the opening of the Church of the Holy Spirit this year, Mrs. Goodell has been the organist and in recognition of her faithful services and untiring zeal for the church's welfare, Rev. L. Curtis Denney, in a gracious presentation speech, tendered a gift to Mrs. Goodell from her friends here. In her sweet charming manner, Mrs. Goodell responded and accepted the gift, a long string of novelty gun metal beads. Two breezy monologues were given by Mrs. George L. Chamberlain, to the amusement of all present. Best wishes and God speed accompany the Goodells to their new home.

FROM DELHI TO STAMFORD.

New York State Company Seeking Right of Way for Electric Light Wires.

Stamford, Sept. 23. — Representatives of the New York State Gas & Electric corporation are in this section procuring rights of way over a strip 50 feet wide between Delhi and this village for the construction of a new high power electric line. A large amount of new material is being delivered here. Cedar poles from 35 to 55 feet long from Washington state will be used to carry these wires which will bring the current from the Adirondacks, which is to come to Colliers and thence to Delhi and to this village.

From Delhi two lines are to be built, the one to Stamford and one through Andes and thence to Margaretville and Arkville, the latter being designed to furnish light and power for the summer resorts in the central Catskills. When these lines are completed it is expected that the line from Kingston to Gilboa and Stamford will be abandoned, owing to the cost of maintenance.

The line from Kingston to Gilboa was originally built by the Ashokan tunnel and Gilboa reservoir to secure electric power for construction and later was sold to the New York State company. The 13-mile tunnel having been completed the wires now supply power for the Gilboa work and electricity for the villages of Roxbury, Grand Gorge, Stamford, Hobart and South Kortright.

On the completion of the line from Delhi to Stamford [illegible] farmers costing $300 each will be installed in the old power building near the railroad station in this village.

The company is certainly spending a large sum of money in the furtherance of plans to supply electricity to villages throughout this section and it is believed that the patronage that seems assured warrants the outlay that is being made.

Sells Residence.

Gilbert Haines has sold his residence and land on River street to Peter Curtow of Grand Gorge.

To Motor to Florida.

Mrs. Sarah Edwards, mother of O. H. Edwards of Stamford, was recently injured in an automobile accident in Jacksonville, Fla., where she resides. Mr. Edwards plans to visit his mother about November 1, making the trip by automobile.

Motor Bus Insurance Company.

Orson J. Buck, proprietor of the Stamford-Oneonta and River street bus lines, is second vice president of the Motor Bus Indemnity company of Binghamton, recently incorporated at Albany. It is a stock corporation, with a capital and surplus of $451,500 with headquarters at Binghamton. The organization is the outcome of a movement to reduce the cost of automobile bus insurance.

Don't Pay

For beauty you fail to get

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I am not a cosmetic maker, not a beauty expert. My work is on the stage and screen. But I have had advantages which most girls and women lack. I had a rich, ambitious mother who took me in a world-search for the utmost in beauty helps. Then when I became a famous beauty, every great scientist who made a discovery sent it at once to me.

Edna Wallace Hopper

Now I wish all girls and women to share that good fortune with me. I found helps which multiplied my beauty, and which have kept my youthful beauty to my grand old age, and great experts tell me that every woman can in like ways secure the results.

So I am placing these helps, which I offer a lifetime in finding, at every druggist. All druggists and toilet counters now supply them. But with each comes a guarantee. I instruct every dealer to return the money to anyone disappointed, and charge the amount to me.

My marvelous complexion is largely due to a super-cream. It combines the products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that modern science knows to foster, feed and protect the skin. I use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it.

And my baby skin, at my age, means how much it means to women. No woman I have ever met has ever had a cream to compare.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is now supplied by all druggists in most countries at 60c per jar and $1 per tube. But I shall be glad to send sample, if you wish. Just mail the coupon for it, and my Beauty Aid will come with it.

TEACHING OF CLASSICS.

Recent inquiry made by Dean West of the Princeton Graduate school relative to the study of Latin in secondary schools of the country reveals some facts which will be of interest to teachers, parents and pupils themselves who are considering the study of the classics. In this connection certain questions were submitted to pupils in the fourth High school year, 8,699 in number, and the answers received were duly tabulated with the following results:

Forty-seven per cent of the pupils gave among other reasons, the following answers: Had to have Latin for college entrance, found Latin helped in English, believed it good mental training. A third of them liked Latin, another third thought four years' study of one subject a good thing and a like number found it helped in the study of other languages. Only 22 per cent took it up because teachers or principals advised it, 16 per cent thought it easier than some other subjects, and 12 per cent because they had to have it for graduation.

These questions and answers will appeal to students just now embarking on a High school course, and they will no doubt be interested in the various reasons. The first, the fact that it is required for college entrance, no doubt induces many to begin the study; but as a whole the answers imply an appreciation of the cultural value of the language which indicates conclusively that High school students have a pretty clear conception of what they are after in education, and the best way to attain it.

BACK TO NORMALCY.

On and after Monday, September 29, the cities of New York and Buffalo and many other communities and cities intervening, which for the past six months have been operating on Daylight Saving time, will set their clocks back an hour and thereafter for six months at least will join with the rest of the states in operating on Standard time. It will be a change which by travelers, at least, will be gratefully be received, since no further mathematical calculations will be necessary.

While it may be granted that the earlier rising employe has the advantage under Daylight Saving time of quitting an hour earlier, and so of having a longer period of recreation daylight to himself, it is something which could as well be accomplished without disarranging all the horologues of a continent. Only to get up an hour earlier, and to begin work at seven or eight instead of eight or nine, thereby finishing the job an hour earlier, is no difficult feat and one does not need the child play of setting clocks ahead to do it.

HIGHWAY WORK PROGRESSES.

Total Completed for Season Now 380 Miles.

The following bulletin shows the highway construction accomplished during the week ending September 19: Number of contracts under way, 291; being laid, 84, men employed by contractors, 7,781; square yards of pavement completed during week, 233,828; completed during season, 2,-889,203; maintenance force employed by the state, 4,582.

The above mileage represents [illegible] miles of completed [illegible] the week and a total of [illegible] for the season.

TELEPHONE WORKERS MEET

Discuss Mutual Problems and Methods of Improving Service at District Conference Here.

Unusually profitable and enjoyable as well was the district conference of companies associated with the [illegible] Telephone [illegible] held in this city yesterday, with the Otsego & Delaware company as host and General Manager Fluhrer giving his personal attention to making the event pleasurable for the visitors, among whom were about 100 [illegible] managers, operating officials, [illegible] operators, etc., of companies operating in the counties of Otsego, Delaware, Chenango and Schoharie with some from Broome county, together with officials of the New York Telephone [illegible] operating in Utica, Syracuse and Cleveland, Ohio.

The gathering assembled at the lodge room at the Elks' club at 1 o'clock and were welcomed to the city by Mayor W. Irving Bolton and then were addressed by J. G. Ihmsen of Albany, general manager of the Upstate Telephone association of New York, D. C. Cox of Syracuse, vice president of the Friendship Telephone company and Miss Lillian A. Vavaseur, traffic chief of the Friendship company, the latter at the conclusion of her talk conducting a discussion of traffic matters.

At 1 o'clock the gathering repaired to the Elks' restaurant, where all visitors were guests at luncheon of the Otsego & Delaware company and were served with a most appetizing and satisfying repast.

At the afternoon session papers were read on Accounting Methods, by E. A. Goodrich, treasurer of the Otsego and Delaware company and on Commercial Practices by C. J. Ernst, commercial superintendent of the same company and a general discussion followed on commercial matters.

[illegible] was rendered by employes of the local company which all enjoyed and then a moving picture in which Harold Lloyd is starred, "Number, Please," which created much merriment and the entertainment closed with a telephone demonstration, by employes of the Otsego and Delaware company, similar to that presented last winter before various Oneonta organizations with of course some additions of special interest to those engaged in the business.

It is planned to make these district conferences an annual event, as they have proven valuable in improving system and method and also in betterment of service.

At the request of the officers of Hopkins lodge the participants in the demonstration remained at the lodge room and after the banquet of the trainmen was ended, presented it to a crowded hall of members of that organization and friends.

GOLDEN JUBILEE CONVENTION

ONEONTA PLANS FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF W. C. T. U.

Large Attendance Assured at State Gathering at First Presbyterian Church—State and National Speakers of Prominence to Address Session—Convention Begins Thursday of Next Week Ends Following Tuesday.

For the second time since the organization of the State W. C. T. U. that body will hold its annual convention this year in Oneonta. Important as these gatherings always are, that which begins in this city on Thursday of next week is of exceptional importance, inasmuch as it will be held fifty years after the first inconsiderable gatherings of the members of what was then a new order were held in the village of Fredonia, this state, and in Hillsboro, Ohio. In the long interval since 1874, the country has seen the order grow to influence and power for good in the country, and most striking of all it has seen the cardinal principles of the union embodied in the constitution [illegible] therefore, will be one of not only local and state but of national [illegible] and the speakers who will take part will be of state, national and international prominence.

The six days' work of the convention, at which every county in the state will be represented, will begin Thursday evening, October 2, in the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Ella A. Poole, state president, will preside and the program will include music by the Wesleyan orchestra and High school Ukelele club, a violin solo by Miss Dorothy Koch and a vocal solo by Mrs. J. W. Flynn. Greetings will be given by Mayor Bolton, by B. C. [illegible] for the Chamber of Commerce, by George J. Dunn for the schools and by Rev. Dr. J. W. Flynn for the churches. The greetings of the county union will be extended by Mrs. Lela E. Walker for the county, and Mrs. Pease Hall for the local W. C. T. U. The responses will be by [illegible] Wells of Erie county and [illegible] Earl of Tompkins county [illegible]

W. C. T. U., and Miss Christina Tinling, special representative of the World's W. C. T. U. in China.

On Monday and Tuesday mornings the business sessions will be continued, as also on Monday afternoon.

Monday evening a pageant arranged by Mrs. Eva C. Horton of Greenport, L. I. and presented by Mrs. Susie Ingerham of Oneonta will be given in the High school auditorium. This pageant has for some time been in preparation and rehearsal and it will be one of the big features of convention week. In connection with the pageant there will be music by the High school orchestra, songs by Mrs. Frances W. Graham and stereopticon pictures "America the Beautiful." The final adjournment will be at noon on Tuesday.

More complete announcement of the state convention program will be given from day to day in the columns of The Star.

Oil Your Car at 60 Miles an Hour!

YOU'RE rushing along in your Cleveland Six at 60 miles an hour. A squeak or rattle develops.

Do you stop and get out the grease gun? Or endure the noise until you get back home? Not at all!

You simply step on a convenient plunger and the noise is instantly silenced.

That's why the "One-Shot" Lubricating System ranks as one of the great advances in motor car design.

It enables you to lubricate all moving chassis parts without leaving the driver's seat.

It does more than save time and eliminate greasy hands or garments. It insures easier riding, smoother operation, longer car life and higher re-sale value—all because it makes chassis lubrication too simple and easy to neglect.

Because of the sheer value it represents, the 1925 Cleveland Six is winning new buyers at a rate that makes it one of the most popular six cylinder cars of the day.

Here are some of the reasons for that popularity.

Mileage Motor—a matchless master of hills with a flashing get-away in high gear.

4-Wheel Brakes—of Cleveland Six design, optional at a moderate extra cost—

Full Balloon Tires—extra comfort at no extra cost.

Beautiful Bodies—smart, durable and luxurious.

LOCAL MENTION

—Numerous Star readers called attention to the display of aurora borealis visible last evening.

—Captain J. A. Judge will be the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Elks' club today. His subject will be, "The Humor of Mark Twain."

—Howard Gibbs won the 100-yard dash and the potato race at the Craftsmen picnic on Saturday last and not Robert Gibbs as stated in The Star of Monday.

—The condition of Justice Kellogg continues encouraging and it is believed that with a period of absolute rest, that the ailment will be relieved. Dr. Hunt of New York city was here late Monday evening in consultation with Dr. Marx.

—As the result of a painful fall which she received several days ago, Mrs. George Waldron is confined to her home on the cemetery road, with a sprained knee. She was attended by Dr. O. C. Tarbox of this city.

—A special drill of Company G will be held at the armory this evening on the occasion of an inspection visit to this city of Captain H. K. Anderson, one of the United States army instructors detailed to this regiment.

—Royal Rebekah lodge will hold a food and bake sale Saturday, September 27, at Hutson's Drug store, beginning at 10 o'clock. It is hoped that members will contribute generously and the public extend equally liberal patronage.

—Secure your operators' licenses today. Judge VanWoert will render assistance at the city court room every morning this week. After October 1 no person can lawfully drive a car in this state without either an operators' or chauffeurs' license.

—Congressman John D. Clarke of Frasers and Dr. George J. Dann, superintendent of Oneonta schools, will be the speakers at a banquet of the Unadilla Rod and Gun club to be held at the Presbyterian church in that village on Friday evening, September 26, at 6:30.

—Do you want a good dog? There are a number of dogs held at the city dog pound, and since owners have not claimed them they must either be destroyed or given to new owners. If you do want one of the dogs call at the office of the city clerk between 9 and 12 or 1 and 5 o'clock.

—Dr. W. J. LeSuer has purchased the former Hon. David Wilber home at 8 Ford avenue of the First Methodist Episcopal church and has taken possession. He plans to move his home there immediately, and to remove his dental offices; also about November 1. The location is a fine one for the double purpose.

—The Crusaders of the First Baptist church held their first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. F. W. Green, 65 Center street, yesterday afternoon with nine members the only new member. The program consisted of Bible readings and a missionary story told by Miss Olive Duke, after which the remainder of the afternoon was spent in making jointed toys.

—Twenty-seven members were present at the meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Main Street Baptist church which was held in the assembly room yesterday afternoon. The program, in charge of Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. Engler, proved a most enjoyable one. Miss Catherine Curtis, who has recently returned from China, gave a splendid talk on missionary activities in that country, and Miss Minnie Parks sang several solos Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Beach and Mrs. Stanton.

RYAN MEETS HIS MASTER

Marty Ryan Badly Trimmed by Frank Yarchan of New York in Final of Excellent Boxing Card as Part of Celebration of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen's Chinese Boxing—Capacity Crowd in Attendance.

Marty Ryan, pride of the D. & H. system, and a boxer who has given an excellent account of himself in a number of exhibitions held at the D. & H. arena in this city during the past year, met his master last evening in the final of the excellent card arranged as a part of the celebration of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at the dedication of their birthplace caboose in Neahwa park when in the fourth round of a scheduled eight round bout he surrendered to Frank Yarchan of New York city. Ryan was in considerably better condition than on his previous appearances having dropped nearly 20 pounds, realizing that he had a tough match, but Yarchan could not be staved off, and, after giving and taking considerable punishment, he put Ryan to the floor for eight seconds in the third round and then in the fourth fully demonstrated his superior condition by forcing Ryan to retire.

The entire card was an excellent one, and the final was such as will make Oneonta fight fans hungry for another exhibition. E. W. Lalor, promoter of the exhibition, would say only "I told you so" after the bouts, every event being fully up to the promises which had been made.

"N. S. E." was the card hung out at the arena last evening, and there truly was not even standing room for some of those who were late in arriving at the show.

Excepting only the final, the feature of the evening was the bout between Billy Burke of Endicott, Southern Tier champion, and Jimmy Develin of this city. Both men mixed blows in reckless fashion, the fight favoring first one and then the other.

The crowd was surprised when "Gentleman Jim" Brodie, in announcing the judges' decision as a draw, said that Burke had not been feeling well during the afternoon, and that Develin, who is employed in the local machine shop, had entered the ring on short notice. Oneonta would like to see a battle between these two boys when they were right.

When Billy Gray and George Mangus opened the evening's card fans thought that the best had come first. Both men stepped right into their bout and a fine, even match it was. Gray is but a youngster, and while he missed much in not following up his advantages, still kept his more experienced opponent guessing for the full six rounds.

Bob and Walter Hodge, aged 7 and 8 years, won another full share of applause again last evening, as well as a shower of silver following their exhibition. The boys have come to be a feature of all bouts staged here, and their popularity does not seem to wane a bit.

They slug with all that's in them, and take their work more seriously than many older boys.

Moe Harris and Tommy Rowe boxed a six-round draw that started out like a dance, but which grew considerably more exciting as the gong rang on. Lewis Hodge, father of the Hodge boy, and Mooch Leo of Carbondale ran through a three round exhibition rather easily, but Hodge plainly showed that he was a boxer and could put up a good battle.

In the crowd of last evening were a number of ladies who seemed to be having as good a time as any of the male fans, and most of them were lusty rooters.

Considerable credit is due the D. & H. Athletic association and Mr. Lalor for the fine exhibition arranged for last evening ,and especially of making it possible for the Oneonta and vicinity people to attend the entertainment arranged primarily for the honored guests of the Trainmen.

THREE JUMP BAIL

Alleged Pickpockets Arrested at Fair Alleged to Have Long Criminal Records

EACH FORFEITS $200 IN CASH

Max Stern, John Preller and Charles McCann Claimed to Have Used Other Names and to Have Been Guilty of Varied Crimes—Authorities Seek Men to Face Charges Before Court Here.

Three alleged pickpockets arrested at the Oneonta fair whose second trial on a charge of disorderly conduct, was scheduled to take place before City Judge Lee D. Van Woert yesterday morning, failed to appear and the bail of $200 furnished by each was ordered forfeited.

Investigation by the police since the men were first arrested disclosed that they were among the worst criminal characters ever arrested in Oneonta. Each of them has a long criminal record and their real identities were not ascertained until their fingerprints were sent to New York and the records searched.

Max Stern was found to be Max Selig with a police record extending over twelve years. John Preller, who gave his correct name to the local authorities has been frequently arrested for various offenses and has served prison terms for the last eight years. The third member of the trio who gave his name as Charles McCann was found to be Edward Buell, who has been almost continuously in the toils of the law since 1896 when he first came into the police limelight and was sent to a Catholic Protectory school for truancy.

Have Powerful Backing.

That the three men have close and powerful connection with the underworld in New York city and elsewhere was indicated by the quick and methodical manner in which they managed to secure their release on bail after the jury disagreed last Friday. Immediately afterward, Selig, alias Stern and Buell, who posed as Charles McCann, secured $200 in cash each, which is the limit of bail that can be demanded under the law for the offense with which they were charged. By this method they regained their freedom. Preller apparently had more difficulty in getting in touch with friends on the outside but he also shortly afterward was released under $200 bail which was furnished from the outside.

That word of the men's plight quickly spread to associates on the outside and that they are powerful, is shown by the fact that immediately after leaving the city lockup they were hurried away in a powerful automobile.

As soon as the fingerprint records of the men were taken the copies were rushed to New York. Here a search of the records of the Bureau of Criminal Identification was made with the result that the day following their release on bail, Chief of Police Horton, received a telegram from Chief Inspector Lahey of the New York Police Department, informing him of the men's true names and telling the local chief that they each had long prison records and further details were being forwarded by mail.

Seek Rearrest.

Upon receiving this information, the local authorities, including City Attorney Donald H. Grant, sought some method by which they could rearrest the men, before the time at which they were scheduled to appear for retrial yesterday morning in order to make sure they would not jump their bail bonds. No legal method could be found however, and the authorities were compelled to wait until this morning before they could get in a positon warranting a rearrest. A wide search for the men now is under way and it is hoped that they will soon be in custody again because of the fact that they are well known to the police because of their records.

Max Selig, who gave the alias of Max Stern when arrested here, began his criminal career September 29, 1912, when he was arrested for

CONFESSES STARVING DOG

Joe Giglio of 14 Susquehanna Street Finally Admits Crime After Another Arrest.

Joe Giglio of 14 Susquehanna street finally confessed on Monday to the act of taking his pet dog into the woods on South Side about July 15 and of there tying the dog to a tree with his mouth fastened shut, and of leaving him there to starve. Mrs. W. T. Hyde of Cooperstown, agent of the Otsego Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said that she felt that this case was the most brutal which had yet come to her attention, and the confession of Giglio followed three days of intensive work on the part of Mrs. Hyde and Corporal Dering and Trooper Dwyer of the state police.

[illegible] Murdock on the charge and given a suspended sentence of 30 days in the county jail and a fine of $10, pointing out that he was being especially lenient in view of the fact that the man confessed his crime, was but 17 years of age, and had never before been involved in such a case.

At the same time Giglio was fined $5 for driving his automobile while under age, he being but 17 years of age, and the lad had considerable difficulty in raising the money for his two fines.

According to the confession of Giglio he wished to dispose of his dog because he felt he could not afford a license.

The horrible part of the act, however, was that he took the dog out in the center of the woods, tied his mouth together so that he could not eat nor free himself, and, with a knot which pulled tighter as the dog struggled, went off and left his unfortunate dumb friend to suffer and starve alone.

The body of the animal was not found until last week, and from the marks about the scene, it was certain that it had suffered untold horrors.

LEADERS CLUB EXHIBITION.

To Have Active Part in Physical Department Program in December.

At the meeting of the Leaders' club of the High school, held last evening, first plans were made for the exhibition which the club is to present as a part of the program to be presented in December at the High school, under the physical training department and in which will participate not only High school students, but those of some of the grades as well. Marching, tumbling, club swinging, and other features will make up the program, and a fine entertainment is promised by the manner in which the participants are even now working.

The work of the Leaders' club last evening was mainly tumbling and special marching, the leaders securing advance preparation for the gymnasium classes which will be held for the balance of the week.

Now "Midge" Fights Back

"Midge" Casper 17, was forward on her basketball team in Cleveland. Largely through her playing the girls won every game. But when it came to passing out the league title, a church quintet protested "Midge's" eligibility. She was playing out of her class, its manager said. So the church team won the cup, title and everything. Now the backer of "Midge's" team is suing the church five, individually and collectively for the trophies it was awarded.

SUCCUMBS TO ANAEMIA

Mathew A. Brown of Ceperley Avenue Dies After Long Illness.

Mathew A. Brown, for twenty-one years an employe of the D. & H. company of this city, died at his home at 17 Ceperley avenue yesterday morning at 6 o'clock following an illness of fourteen weeks with pernicious anaemia. Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock from his late home and at 8 o'clock from St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, Rev. Father William D. Noonan officiating. Burial will be made at Middle Granville where there will also be a short service Friday morning, the party making the trip by way of the D. & H.

Surviving Mr. Brown are his wife, Mrs. Hanna McGrath Brown, one daughter, Miss Marion Brown, eleven years old, and one brother, John who will have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

Mathew Brown was born May 24, 1869, at Waterford, the son of Mathew and Mary Walsh Brown. He was married at Granville December 29, 1897, later moving to West Pawlet, and coming to Oneonta 21 years ago to enter the employ of the D. & H.

He was a popular and trusted employe of the company, being at the time he was forced to relinquish his duties because of ill health the southbound desk clerk.

Franklyn deLorme Taken Home.

Franklyn deLorme, formerly a clerk at the Oneonta hotel, but who had recently been recovering from a serious operation at the Windsor hotel, was taken to his home in Williamsport yesterday afternoon. His mother came to Oneonta to accompany him there.

Since his operation the ligaments in his limbs had tightened up and he was unable to walk, hence the ambulance was called to take him from the hotel to the D. & H. train.

Clam-Chowder Sale.

The A. M. E. church will hold a clam chowder sale for the benefit of the church Thursday evening, Sept. 25th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Harris, 1 Bennett avenue. The sale will begin at 5 p. m. Everybody is welcome. Real clam chowder at 25c a bowl.

Notice.

Dr. Winne will conduct the tuberculosis clinic at the Community house on Thursday afternoon from 1 until 5 o'clock. The clinic is free to all residents of Otsego county.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES

Big Sister Movement Inaugurated This Year at the Normal School Proving Very Successful.

Probably one of the things which will do most to strengthen school spirit in the Normal school this year is the introduction of the "Big Sister" movement, whereby, every freshman girl has a big sister in one of the upper classes. It is the duty of the big sister to help the particular freshman assigned to her to become accustomed to the routine of the school, she is to assist her in her studies, if need be, see that she attends social functions of the school, and act as general counselor. Members of the freshman class were given handbooks upon their registered in which are explained in full the rules they must follow during their first year in the school. Each girl was given a freshman button with the numerals of her class on it, and this she must wear at all times to distinguish her from students in the upper classes.

The Big Sister commission, which was appointed last year, with Miss Pauline Peters as chairman, and Mildred Caine, Esther Beams, Catherine Owens, Kaley Smith, Pauline Guiseppe, Amy Carlton, Marguerite Jones as others members of the committee, held its first meeting after classes had passed yesterday. A report was given by the committee of what had been done regarding its work; the securing of names and addresses of freshmen, the assignment to big sisters, meeting freshmen at the trains when they arrived in the city, and assisting them in finding boarding and rooming places. It was decided that appointment of the commission for next year should be made by the Student League board at the termination of the third quarter. Until the formation of the new commission the one now acting will see that big sisters fulfill their duties.

For the enforcement of the freshman rules a Freshman Council board has been appointed by the Student League board, consisting of Miss Katherine Tobey as faculty advisor, and Janet Dow, Grace Utter, Marion Hoyle, Kaley Smith, Dorothy Warner and Lucy Newrohr. When members of the freshman class fail to obey rules reports are to be made to the council and the matter will be taken up.

At the Student league mass meeting, which was held on Monday after school, the rules of the school were fully explained after the usual business had been conducted. It was announced then that the freshman handbooks were to be sold to Juniors and Seniors for the balance of the week and that the annual Student league tag day would be held today.

Sorority Notes.

A "get-acquainted" party was given by the members of the Clionian sorority on last Friday night in their club rooms at the school. About 20 guests were entertained with dancing, a short program and cards. This is the first rush party given by the sorority this year.

The first rush party given by the Agonians was a "weinie" roast at Wilber park on last Saturday. The 20 guests, as well as the members of the sorority, spent a very enjoyable afternoon.

The first regular rush parties are being given by the five sororities on Friday night at the school.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE AT TROY.

Mrs. Virginia W. Stevenson Reports Favorable Meeting of Health Workers.

Mrs. Virginia W. Stevenson, executive secretary of the Otsego County Tuberculosis and Public Health association has just returned from Troy, where a conference was held between the representatives of the county tuberculosis and public health committees operating in this section of the state, and the members of the staff of the state committee on tuberculosis and public health of the State Charities Aid association.

The work outlined for next year will require a minimum of $500,000, which must be raised by the up-state counties in the sale of Christmas seals. To meet this, 90,000,000 Christmas seals will be put in circulation and efforts will be made to increase the sale of health bonds. One billion three hundred million seals will be placed on sale throughout the country to meet the national $5,000,000 quota.

The health program carried on by Otsego county was heartily endorsed by the conference.

CHILDREN'S SOCIETY LUNCHEON

To Be Held at Hotel Fenimore on Saturday, October 4.

The annual luncheon of the Otsego County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children is to be held at Hotel Fenimore, Cooperstown, on Saturday, October 4.

As in former years it is expected that the directors in the several towns will arrange to attend and to bring along a few loyal members from their respective towns. Miss Wardwell, the very capable secretary of the society, hopes that each town in the county will be represented, giving the society a 100 per cent attendance. Last year all but three were represented and this year with a little effort each town can be represented.

At this meeting Miss Trow, the county agent, will give a resume of her work, which has attracted the attention of workers throughout the state.

Chinese Woman Attends.

The Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. L. Bliss, 11 Jefferson avenue, and about 25 ladies were in attendance. The program on "China," was in charge of Mrs. A. B. Davis and an interesting feature was the portrayal of a "Chinese woman" by Miss Caribelle Bliss, who was attired in a Chinese costume which arrived last week from China, sent to Mrs. Davis by her son, Herman Davis, who is stationed in that country.

DO YOU DRIVE AN AUTO?

Every Operator of Motor Vehicle Must Be Licensed October 1—Less Than a Week Now Remains.

Every motor vehicle operator in New York state must be licensed October 1, or be subject to arrest.

It is estimated there are about 1,500,000 operators in the state who will be required to comply with this provision of the new law.

Thousands are still unlicensed.

Every public spirited motorist should aid in bringing about full enforcement of the law, which is designed to save human lives by preventing careless and reckless driving, by obtaining a license as soon as possible.

If you operate a motor vehicle and have not obtained a license, apply for one today. Don't wait until the last minute! Help to avert a jam of applicants in the closing hours just before October 1.

As a Matter of Form

A Pretty Young Girl?

Nice figure and all that. Well, it is Edna Wallace Hopper, Stage Star of your grandma's days, sporting a one-piece bathing suit on the beach at Crystal Pier, California.

Why be out of date, even if you are old! Stay young, says Edna, and she must have the secret herself.

By EMERSON RUSSELL
Special Correspondent

Los Angeles, Calif.—Edna Wallace Hopper, whose rejuvenation to the youth and vitality of a girl of 19 formed the basis of the recent popular novel "Black Oxen," was snapped as she prepared to take her morning plunge at Crystal Pier, California.

Miss Hopper is acclaimed as one of America's most beautiful actresses. Looking more like a debutante than a woman who was a theatrical celebrity 40 years ago, the petite stage star causes women, who see her, to wonder what the secret of youth may be. Her home city of San Francisco recently honored Miss Hopper by according her a public reception at which Mayor Rolph officially welcomed her to the city of her birth.

Years no longer can be taken as the barometer of age. Not "how old are you" but "how old do you feel," will be the question asked if women emulate the example of America's most famous rejuvenated stage beauty. All the world seeks the secret of youth but Miss Hopper seems to have found it. As a matter of form it leaves nothing to be desired.

opium smoking in New York city and sent to the workhouse for 60 days in special sessions court. He was sentenced under the name of Joseph Stein.

As Max Segil, he served three months in the workhouse in New York city for petit larceny, being sentenced in the court of special sessions on March 18, 1918.

As Max Selig, he was discharged after being arrested in New York on a charge of burglary by a police court judge in December of the same year.

On July 28, 1919, he was sent to the Blackwell's Island penitentiary for petit larceny. On October 29, under the name of Morris Stone, he paid a fine for disorderly conduct in New York city. On June 30, 1921, under the name of Max Selig, he was returned to Blackwell's island penitentiary for violation of parole.

Has Long Record.

As Abe Cohen, he was sent to the workhouse for three months by Magistrate Levine in New York police court on November 13, 1921. On October 3, 1922, he was sent to the workhouse again for three months for disorderly conduct under the name of Morris Stern. On March 22, 1923, under the name of Max Stone, he again went to the workhouse for two months for disorderly conduct. He was discharged on June 20, 1923, after being charged with petit larceny.

He also was arrested in Yonkers and Passaic, N. J., on charges of petit larceny and being a disorderly person last year and these two cases have not yet been disposed of.

John J. Preller, the second member of the trio, was arrested in Philadelphia as a suspect, March 14, 1916, but no disposition was made of his case. As John J. Butler, he was sentenced to the Dauphin county prison as a professional thief at Harrisburg, Pa.

He was arrested as a pickpocket in Newport News, Va., June 4, 1921, but this case was not disposed of. Under the name of Joseph Burch, he was sentenced to the workhouse in New York city on June 23, 1922, for disorderly conduct. On May 2, 1922, he was arrested as a fugitive from justice and returned to Newport News for trial.

As Harry G. Weller, he was arrested at Easton, Pa., as a suspect and fined $25 and costs. As James Parker, he was arrested last August in New York and sent to the workhouse for three months for disorderly conduct by Magistrate Barret in police court. He was again arrested and given three months in the workhouse by Magistrate Silberman in New York police court last February.

Faces Many Charges.

Edward Buell, who gave the name of Charles McCann when arrested here, appears to be the most desperate one of the three. He began his criminal career when he was sent to a reform school for truancy in 1896. On February 11, 1907, he was arrested for burglary and discharged in New York city. The following December, he was again in the toils for burglary and sent to Sing Sing for two years and six months. On May 8, 1911, he again faced a burglary charge in New York but was discharged. In January, 1912, he was sentenced to two years and one month for grand larceny. In April, 1914, he faced another burglary charge but was discharged. Then followed an assault and robbery charge in December from which he gained his freedom. In January, 1915, he was sent to the workhouse for one month for disorderly conduct and on November 15, he was sent to the penitentiary for one year and fined $500 for carrying concealed weapons. He was arrested in Providence, R. I., in June, 1917, as an escaped prisoner and returned to the penitentiary. In July, 1918, he faced another robbery charge and in January, 1920, he was sent to Sing Sing for three years for grand larceny. On September 27, 1922, he was charged with being a pickpocket in New York city and sent to the workhouse for four months. His last conviction was on another charge of being a pickpocket when he was again sent to the workhouse, this time for six months.

BETTER BREAD KEEPS PRICE UP, SAYS BAKER SPOKESMAN

Atlantic City, Sept. 22.—Bread will never again drop in price below the 10-cent limit, according to opinions expressed by practically all the heads of the leading baking companies attending the convention of the American Bakeries association, which opens which opened here today.

"The bakers have been pilloried by the farmers for not bringing the price of bread down with the lower price of wheat," said I. K. Russell, editor of "Baking Technology," "but they cannot go below the 10-cent price and prosper. This is because the day of the little baker is passing.

"The old bread was sufficient if made with water, yeast, and salt, but today the bakeries turn out loaves containing milk, sugar, yeast and lard and these ingredients cannot be put in a five-cent loaf to pay a profit."

WOULD BREAK JAIL

Bold Attempt by Ten Desperate Criminals Confined in the Otsego County Jail

Sheriff Converse Surprises Men at Work at Midnight and Stops the Delivery—Planned to Reach Basement and Then Enter Garage and Get Away in Sheriff's Cars.

Cooperstown, Sept. 23 — Sheriff Converse nipped in the bud a bold attempt at jail breaking at the county jail last night about midnight and but for his alertness there would have probably been a delivery of some 10 of the worst characters that the jail has housed in a generation at least, most of whom are being held for the grand jury and charged with crimes for which if they are convicted they will doubtless receive fairly long state prison sentences.

Mr. Converse had been suspicious that something was brewing for the past week or ten days and has remained at home and kept a watchful eye out for developments, although he had been unable to locate any implements or loosening of locks or bars.

Last night at midnight, however, he surprised the men in the corridor where the more desperate prisoners are confined and found them at work. They had pried off one of the large locks on the door and had also partially freed one of the steel bars that runs up and down at the side of the door, which when off would have let them out into the main hall, and then the breaking of a single lock would have permitted them to gain the basement, from which it would have been an easy matter to escape to the ground level.

One of the members of the gang has admitted to Sheriff Converse that they had planned to make their escape in this manner and then to break into the garage and take two cars therefrom and make a fast getaway. The men had used for a bar a leg which they had taken from under the sink in the bath room connected with the corridor of their cells.

This fall the gang held for grand jury is composed of more desperate criminals than is usually the case and as the time for the sitting of the grand jury approaches it is assumed that they became anxious to gain their freedom, lest long sentences be imposed.

Sheriff Converse has made arrangements for night watchmen to be on duty until after the cases in which these men are involved has been presented to the grand jury and action taken.

SPEAKS AT MORRIS FAIR.

Secretary of State Hamilton Addresses Farmers Next Wednesday.

Albany, Sept. 23.—Those who visit the Morris Fair netx week, will have an opportunity of hearing James A. Hamilton, secretary of state, who has accepted an invitation to visit and speak at the fair on Wednesday, October 1. Mr. Hamilton will motor down from Albany for the occasion. His talk will be comparatively short, and will be confined entirely to a discussion of agricultural matters. Secretary Hamilton has spoken at a number of county fairs in various parts of the state this fall. Although a resident of New York city, he has long taken a keen interest in agricultural matters and was responsible for the farms which are connected with New York city's penal institutions in Orange county.

Patent Office Plans Auction of Old Models

Washington.—What to do with all the old-time models, now in the custody of the patent office, is awaiting solution, and efforts will be made at the coming session of congress to clarify the situation.

The demand for space in the patent office ousted the models from their exhibition cases at the end of the last century, but the government has had to continue paying space rental for them. A proposal now being considered is to have a commission appointed to sort out the models that might prove of historic interest, and perhaps sell the others at public auction.

The general requirement of having the inventor submit a model with his patent application was discontinued about 1880. Today the law directs that the commissioner of patents in his discretion may require a model furnished.

Send Kellogg's Bran 2 months—constipation gone after suffering 3 years

Three years of suffering with constipation. What happiness was his when Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, restored his health. But read his letter.

"Dear Sirs:

. . . this is what I think of your krumbled bran. I would not be without it for anything in the world. . . . for three years I used all kinds of medicines for constipation, and only got temporary relief. I was advised by a doctor to use Kellogg's Bran, and since I began using it I don't have to take pills or anything else. I have used it two months, and my constipation has left me. I feel better now than I have for three years."

(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

Kellogg's Bran brings results because it is ALL bran. You can't fight constipation with halfway measures—with brans which are only part bran. It takes ALL bran to be 100 per cent effective.

Because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran it sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts naturally—just as nature acts. It stimulates the intestine and makes it function regularly. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will refund your money.

Kellogg's Bran has a delicious nut-like flavor. Quite different from ordinary, unpalatable brans. You will like it as a cereal, sprinkled on other cereals, cooked with hot cereals, or in the recipes given on every package.

Eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

GENERAL LIST GOES TO HIGHER GROUND

Cotton Futures Rise Sensationally —August Rail Reports Good —Money Rates Ease Further

Brief Stock Review.

Total stock sales 806,500 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 102.-91; previous session 101.95. High, 1924, 104.13; low, 89.27. Twenty railroads averaged 90.-96; previous session 90.07. High, 1924, 93.15; low, 81.00.

Brief Bond Review.

Total bond sales $14,095,000. Ten first grade rails averaged 89.-76 previous session 89.58. Ten secondary rails averaged 88.-21; previous session 87.95. Ten public utilities averaged 91.-13; previous session 91.17. Ten industrials averaged 94.75, previous session 94.72. Combined average 90.97; previous session 90.86. Combined average, month ago, 90.44; year ago, 86.42.

New York, Sept. 23. — Constructive forces were at work in today's stock market with the result that the general list moved to higher ground, the net gains in the active issues ranging from fractions to eight points. A sensational rise in cotton futures, a further easing of money rates and the favorable showing made by the first batch of August railroad earnings statements all contributed to the bullish sentiment. Further accumulation of the public utility issues, six of which attained new peak prices for the year, was again one of the day's features. Buying of these shares has been based on reports of increased earnings and merger possibilities, together with expectations of special dividends on both the preferred and common stocks. Pacific Gas and Electric, Peoples Gas, and Brooklyn Union Gas were among the issues in this group to break through their previous high prices.

Electric Manufacturing company has improved in sympathy with the strength of Public Utilities, General Electric, and Allis Chalmers, each showing net gains of two points.

Bullish demonstrations also were successfully conducted in the food shares, National Biscuit, General Baking, Cushman Sons, Postum Cereal preferred, Austin Nichols preferred, and New York Canners all establishing new high prices.

Standard industrials made good recovery from recent heaviness.

Active buying of Lehigh Valley, which closed nearly four points higher at 68¼, was in anticipation of developments looking to the merger of that road with the New York Central system. Northwestern carriers were aided by reports of increased carloadings. Rock Island, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, and Frisco preferred closing a point or so higher.

The bond market continued its march to higher ground today despite a burst of profit taking in United States government obligations. Rail... tivity about evenly divided between high grade and speculative descriptions.

Although individual movements of any importance were lacking, steady investment buying lifted the general average of the high priced railroad liens. Demand was centered principally in the four per cent bonds embracing those of the Atchison, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Atlantic Coast Line, Delaware & Hudson, Louisville & Nashville, Kentucky Central, and Central Pacific railroads.

Trading in the speculative group was more spirited with Missouri Pacific, International-Great Northern, Frisco, Denver & Rio Grande, and Katy mortgages conspicuously active. Norfolk & Western convertibles underwent one of their periodic declines.

Brotherhood Ideals Praised At Dedication of Historic Caboose

Lieutenant-Governor Lunn Pleads for Eternal Truth and Justice in Life of Nation—President Lee of Brotherhood Tells Aims and Ideals of Order—Thanks Oneonta for Site—Loree Sees Spirit of Co-operation—Mayor Bolton Extends Welcome—Banquet at Elks' Club and Grand Ball at Armory.

Pleading that eternal justice and truth power actuate the life of the nation and praising the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for the principles which have governed the order since its founding, George R. Lunn, lieutenant governor of New York, yesterday delivered the principal address at the dedication of the historic caboose in which the Brotherhood was founded in Oneonta, 41 years ago. The dedication took place at the pagoda in Neahwa park.

William G. Lee, revered president of the brotherhood, his face haggard and drawn from a painful and lingering illness, won the hearts of his audience by delivering an inspiring address in which he told the great service given to workers by the brotherhood and detailed the history of the order from the time of its founding here until the present.

Col. J. Tabor Loree, vice president and general manager of the Delaware & Hudson railroad, said that he saw in the caboose, the symbolic history of the life of man. He warmly praised the spirit of cooperation shown by the workers in the brotherhood.

The official welcome was given by W. Irving Bolton of Oneonta, who declared that the dedication in Oneonta was a great event in the history of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. He praised the railroad workers for the great party they play in keeping the wheels of the country's industries in motion and also in bringing happiness and cheer into the homes.

Lunn is Jaunty.

Lietenant Governor Lunn, jaunty and genial, wearing a pepper and salt top coat given him at the State fair in Syracuse and made from black and white wool by hand, put the initial snap into the program at the park when he said that the parade procession to the park looked like the arrival of Andy Gump.

Mr. Lunn began his address with warm praise of the principles which actuate the work of the trainmen and commented upon the excellent work they have done in the way of benefits.

"The great work you have done," said Mr. Lunn, "is shown by the fact that since those eight men founded the order here in this little caboose in Oneonta, the brotherhood has paid out more than $6,500,000 in benefits and grown to more than 175,000 members. This only goes to show that those things which pay most and those principles which pay best are those which serve most.

"There are certain fundamental rules of life which cannot be transgressed by either labor or capital. [illegible] ture of life. Men are born into the world, some of them strong, with high characters and ideals, some are bent and broken, some are broken by sorrow, adversity, twisted and bent. But every man was intended to be born, live and grow right.

Human Element Valued.

"Capital is coming more and more to the realization that its most valuable asset is the human element. Owen D. Young, one of the great foreseeing men of today and who represented this country abroad on the reparations question, ably illustrated this point when he said that if the entire plant, all the machinery of the General Electric company were wiped out, the workers could start to replace every bit of it the next day but if the 70,000 workers of the concern were wiped out the machinery would be useless.

"The right of contract and the recognition of contractual obligations are vital in the relations between capital and labor. If you do not recognize and carry out the right of contract, you have knocked down the ethical support of industry. You men of the trainmen's brotherhood carry out your contracts I know and you are to be highly commended for it.

"The civilization of this nation is based upon three things—the right to private property, the home and family and freedom of worship. Destroy one or all of these and civilization and the nation will fall.

"I believe in God and I want to worship Him according to my conscience and I cannot be secure in that right unless the same right is secured to every other American citizen."

William G. Lee, head of the trainmen, received an ovation when he was introduced by Mayor Bolton.

He gave the history of the order, which began as the Order of Railroad Brakemen when founded in Oneonta, just 41 years ago.

"The membership at that time," said the speaker, "came mostly from a branch of the Capital City Aid association, which had been formed by D. & H. employes at Albany, for the purpose of paying benefits for loss of time due to illness or injury. The train and yard employes at Oneonta became a part of the Capital City Aid association and remained as such until the time of the organization of the Brotherhood of Railroad Brakemen at Oneonta. There had been a Brakemen's brotherhood in the eastern country, that had gone out of existence in the strike of 1877.

Beginning of Order.

"When the organization was started in Oneonta there was no thought [illegible] McCarty, Seymour Wilber, P. J. Dillon, Elmer Wessel, Nathan English, Jr., George Kelley, Charles Shafer, D. J. McCarty, W. C. Gurney, Bert Douglas, Elmer Weaver, M. O'Connor, W. L. Kennedy, R. Busteed.

"In September, 1924, lodge No. 1 has a membership of 273. The claims that have been paid in lodge No. 1 are: 26 death claims, $103,700; 31 disability claims, $46,199; total, 107 claims, $149,899.

"Total claims paid to date: 15,279 [illegible] disability claims, $10,518,551.12; total, 45,317 claims $61,815,868.64.

Value of Order.

"In order to fully realize what this has meant to these beneficiaries we must keep in mind the fact that a great majority of these men could not secure insurance elsewhere on account of the extra hazardous occupations they were following and this is not surprising when we find that prior to the automatic coupler, power brake and other safety devices, every forty ninth man was killed or totally disabled in each year. Today it is every seventy fifth man. Prior to the enactment of the safety laws, 80 per cent of our claims were from accidental causes; today the percentage is 47. Fifty eight per cent of these had not passed the age of 39 years. The average number of years in the brotherhood of those whose claims have been paid is 12.

"One of the outstanding humane features of our Brotherhood insurance is the benevolent disability claim provided for. If the beneficiary board adjudges one totally and permanently disabled from any cause his claim is paid. There have been 8,382 such claims paid amounting to $11,724,400.

"The organization maintains a funeral benefit fund that is created to care for the funeral expenses of those whose disability claims have been paid and they still retain their membership with us, and for those who are not qualified to carry insurance and are admitted as non-beneficiary members, $300 is paid at death and since this fund was created in 1911 2,698 claims have been paid, amounting to $516,200.

"Since January 1, 1923, the Brotherhood has been hospitalizing its members who are afflicted with tuberculosis. During this time we have cared for 406 members. We have now 172 who are being treated in various sanatoriums throughout the United States and Canada at the cost of $258,251, or for $130 per month per patient.

Our aged and disabled members are cared for in the Home for Aged and Disabled Railroad Employes of America at Highland Park, Ill. This institution is maintained by the four railroad brotherhoods, where every desire is furnished one who has reached the twilight of life. Our organization has 40 members in the institution at this time. The cost is $2.15 per day per member, or $784 per year. This expense is met by our entire membership from its General fund.

Protective Features.

"The protective feature of the [illegible] slow and its methods cumbersome.

"I have proceeded on the theory that it is better to negotiate a month if necessary rather than strike a moment. Experience has proven it is much easier to get into trouble than to get out of trouble. I am convinced that the majority of members want justice without a strike if it can be secured, although their loyalty to their organization and their confidence in their officers can be relied upon to make any necessary lawful sacrifice for the cause they love."

Lee Is Honored.

At the conclusion of Mr. Lee's address, Mrs. G. C. Bates of the Ladies' auxiliary of the brotherhood presented him with a large basket of cut flowers. Mr. Lee was deeply affected by the remembrance and the words of admiration and respect from Mrs. Bates on behalf of the auxiliary. In responding, Mr. Lee praised the women for their loyalty and especially for the great work during the influenza epidemic and in caring for the sick and injured.

General Manager Loree said that in the caboose are the symbols of the history of man. He covered many of the great events in the past life of mankind and declared them to be the symbols of man's progress.

"We have a symbol here today," said Mr. Loree. "This rather small caboose is sturdy because it is united—it represents the unity of the brotherhood. Through its windows the light illuminates every corner. It has acted as a home and place for the foundation of great things. So does the brotherhood. Its wheels stand for the progress of the order and its past record denotes its service to mankind.

"I trust that the usefulness to mankind which is symbolizes may always be carried out."

At the conclusion of Mr. Loree's address little Miss Margaret Cline climbed the steps of the caboose and broke a bottle of prune juice over the bumper, completing the final ceremony of dedication.

Great B. R. T. Event.

"This is a great event in the history of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen," said Mayor Bolton in his address of welcome. "It marks the passing of forty-one years of growth and progress. We are happy to greet you here. You are performing a great service to the people. It is through your efforts that the coal is brought from the mines to keep the homes warm and it is your work combined with capital that keeps the wheels of industry moving. It takes an occasion like this to center our thoughts on the gratitude we feel for you."

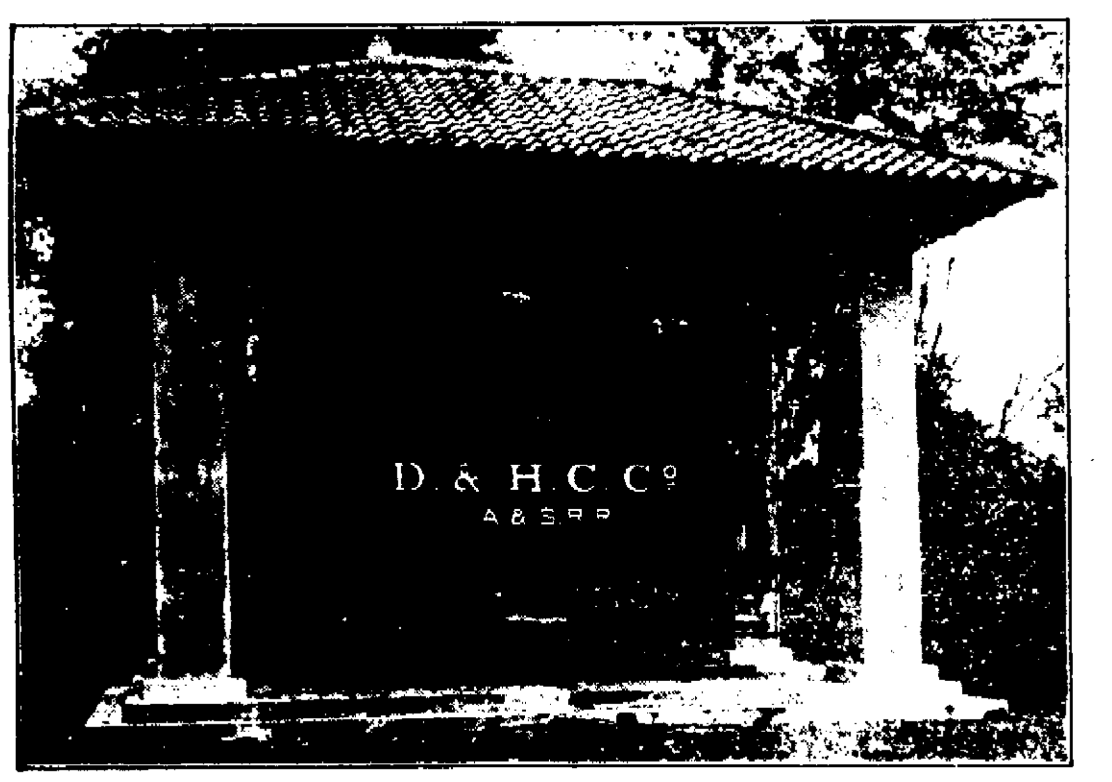

Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Lunn, accompanied by John Fitzgibbons, legislative representative of the brotherhood in New York state, arrived in Oneonta by automobile last night. They left at the conclusion of the dedication ceremony for Syracuse where they will attend the Democratic state convention.

Mr. Lee and his party arrived in Mr. Lee's special car yesterday morning from Albany and returned last night.

Following the ceremony at the park more than 200 trainmen, their friends and invited guests were served at a banquet at the Elks' club. The next big feature was the boxing bouts at the arena, followed by the grand ball last night in the state armory, where several hundred couples danced to music by Wiedemeyers celebrated orchestra from Huntington, West Virginia. Unusual lighting effects and snappy music featured the ball. The Oneonta Syncopators played during the banquet.

Motion pictures of the ceremony at the park were taken and will be shown in Oneonta.

M. E. Roarick, general chairman of the committee on arrangements of the local lodge, No. 1, presided at the dedication ceremony and introduced the speakers.

unjust and not gained on fact, that kind of a victory is sure to end in an ultimate defeat. Whenever organized capital by organization gains a victory not founded on justice and right consideration of fact, that too, is a loss to organized capital.

Right Must Prevail.

"Nothing is as sure as that [illegible] not right, nothing triumphs that isn't just and if I did not believe this, it would take away my belief in justice.

"How little did those eight men who [illegible] this order here realize forty-one years ago what their act would [illegible]. The right of organization [illegible] In those days [illegible] control of [illegible]. It has been a long, hard road to this recognition but it has been worth while."

Have you arranged for a warm place to keep your car this winter or are you going to be penny wise pound foolish and store in a cold place so the paint will all fall off in the spring? Another thing, that great enemy of the modern motor car, crank case dilution, gets in its worst work on the cold storage garage. We can save you a lot of money in car depreciation this winter if you will let us care for your car. Come in and talk it over, the sooner the better. Handy garage, 291 Main. advt 2t

This, then, is real value received. Klipnockie high grade coffee, freshly roasted and sealed in a tin can. You, too, will enjoy this full flavored coffee. advt 6t

Announcing the Appointment of

MORRIS BROS. FEED CO., INC.

As Sales Agents for Sunoco Motor Oil in the Counties of OTSEGO AND DELAWARE

We take pleasure in announcing the appointment of Morris Bros. Feed Company, Inc., as selling agents for Sunoco Motor Oil and Greases in Otsego and Delaware counties. They will carry in Oneonta a complete stock of this famous distilled oil and also Sunoco Greases, and are prepared to give prompt service in these two counties.

Use a wholly distilled oil

You can't see lubrication. The better it is, the less it attracts your attention. You know it's at fault only when trouble occurs.

You get better lubrication when you use Sunoco Motor Oil. It gives your motor more power, smoother action, longer life; and it's a good preventive of repairs and needless expenses.

Sunoco Motor Oil is wholly distilled in every type. Wholly distilled means an absolutely pure and uniform oil—free from cylinder stock.

Cylinder stock, which is the cause of most hard carbon deposits, is a heavy, waxy, green residue added to light oil to produce heavier-bodied oils. Such oils are compounded oils.

There is a right type of Sunoco for your car; a wholly distilled oil free from cylinder stock. It is this distillation which gives you pure oil; effective lubrication in every drop. It explains the fact that with Sunoco you have no hard carbon deposits, fewer repairs and cleaner spark plugs. Most motor troubles are due to improper lubrication. Sunoco is good lubrication.

Ask Morris Bros. Feed Company, Inc., or any Sunoco dealer for a copy of the booklet, "Motor Lubrication." You'll learn a lot about lubrication that you don't know now.

Learn something about grease

You grease your car, or have it greased, to keep wearing parts lubricated. Maybe you think all grease is alike, and it doesn't make much difference what grease you use.

Greases vary greatly; many contain water; some have lime; others asbestos and other adulterants. Probably you have had annoying squeaks, "frozen" springs and shackle-bolts, which sometimes cause repairs and replacements. They may mean something wrong with the grease you are using.

Sunoco Pressure Lubrication is a different kind of grease. It is pure, solidified oil, made from petroleum products exclusively.

Here are the facts

Grease is oil held in a heavier substance to give it body, so that it will stay where it is put; like water in a sponge. In most greases the "sponge" is a heavy hard soap containing animal or vegetable fat. It has little lubricating value; it dries and cakes; clogs the bearings. When you force fresh grease into the bearings, it may not reach the right spot at all, because that hard soap has clogged the bearings.

In Sunoco Pressure Lubricant the "sponge" is petroleum; never dries or cakes; pure lubricant throughout. It contains no moisture, lime, asbestos or other non-lubricants or adulterants. If you've used other greases, have the bearings where the grease has been used thoroughly cleaned. Then use Sunoco Pressure Lubricant, stop the squeals, protect the bearings, save money, and play safe.
